Newsletter

August 2025

SWAN acknowledges the Bunurong / Boon Wurrung people, the Traditional Custodians of these lands and waters where we meet, work and live. We pay our respects to Elders, past and present. In line with our commitment to social justice, SWAN unequivocally supports First Nations People in their campaigns for sovereignty, self-determination, treaties and truth-telling.

Southern Women's+ Action Network

Women of the Mornington Peninsula and across the Southern Metropolitan suburbs of Melbourne striving for social justice.

SWAN aspires to be a supportive community for all women, including ethnically diverse, differently abled, and those self-identifying as transgender or non-binary. We are committed to encompassing greater gender diversity in our membership, practices, social justice actions and in the terminology that we use.

SWAN Speaker Event: NAIDOC Week

On Sunday 20 July, SWAN acknowledged NAIDOC WEEK 2025 at our General Meeting in Mt Martha. Our guest speaker was Kayla Cartledge (above), a proud Gurrindji woman from Larrakia country who moved to the Mornington Peninsula on Bunurong land during her primary school years, and later established 'Our Songlines' and 'Our Survival Day' - to make Indigenous culture accessible to everyone in a supportive, safe environment.

The theme for NAIDOC Week 2025 'The Next Generation: Strength, Vision & Legacy' celebrates the contributions of young Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander individuals, highlights the importance of supporting their development and empowerment, and encourages reflection on the legacy passed down, and on how to build a positive future for all.

Kayla addressed the history behind 50 years of NAIDOC and the theme honouring the ancestors who have paved the way. Elders pass the baton on to new generations to continue ongoing advocacy for a strong future. Kayla stressed the importance of Values and Culture, including Self Determination, Ancient Knowledge, and Education as primary focal points in creating safe spaces for mob and allies. She explained how these principles guided the establishment of 'Our Survival Day' - a space to bring people together to feel safe on January 26 - to practice and celebrate culture and connect with community: a place to build pride and courage.

Kayla was asked by a SWAN member: "What is the significance of your Gurindji connection - how do you carry it?"

'Gurindji culture showed us that peaceful protest was able to move people and bring change and strengthen community. I feel it's important to be inclusive for allies and mob to work together and see the strength that exists in that. It's very much about creating a sense of wider community and having space for that - Survival Day could have been just about mob - but we wanted to bring everyone who was feeling that sense of isolation, the message of wanting to be in a different world that acknowledges traditional culture.'

Following Kayla's presentation, three inspiring, multi-talented and hard-working Aboriginal Elders who live and work in this community – Aunty Patsy Smith, Aunty Yvonne Luke, and Aunty Deb Mellett OAM (who is also Kayla's mum) – told their own moving stories of deprivation, Stolen Generations, resilience and growth, and spoke of their ongoing work and positivity in support of First Nations people, culture and justice: their hope for the future.

The life stories shared by Aunty Patsy, Aunty Yvonne and Kayla's equally inspiring Mum, Aunty Deb, confirmed for us that Kayla and other young First Nations leaders will continue to build on the solid groundwork laid by their Elders, ensuring the voices of First Peoples are heard loud and strong and that self-determination will be achieved.

SWAN too is relying on our youth taking up the baton and leading the way, walking closely beside First Peoples to create a more inclusive and equal nation for us all. Initiatives such as those provided by 'Our Songlines' give us a meaningful way to connect. And so that this hope becomes a reality.

Thanking all four inspiring presenters, SWAN Facilitator Diane McDonald stated, 'We are extremely grateful to you and the many other Aboriginal people who live in our midst, for giving us the opportunity to learn from you, find ways to connect, and work together to create an inclusive and just future for all ... SWAN looks forward to continuing to walk beside our First Nations allies over the coming years.'

Most powerfully, in the true spirit of walking together for a better future, Kayla asked that the $200 donation we offered her as guest speaker be used to sponsor some 'Our Survival Day' tickets for non-Indigenous people who would otherwise not be able to attend.

Thank you to our raffle sponsors, Nora's Pizza House Rye and Miller's Bread Kitchen Dromana.

NEXT SWAN Coffee Catch-Up: The Blue Mini Café Rosebud

Sunday 17 August

10-11.30am

2 Colchester Rd Rosebud (off Boneo Rd)

Bringing joy, social connection, and engaging discussion, SWAN Coffee Catch Ups are a great way for you to relax and to spend time with like-minded women, especially when there's less time to do so at our General Meetings.

The Blue Mini is the former Rosebud Ten Pin Bowling Alley, nostalgically converted into a spacious café and gift store featuring locally grown, handcrafted, upcycled and reusable products, including Revolution Coffee from Somerville.

Come along and see what all the fun and connection is about!

Grandmothers For Refugees (GFR)

Flinders-Dunkley GFR are a community advocacy group for the welfare and recognition of refugees and asylum seekers. Their work includes liaising with local councils, promoting refugee welcome zones, setting up library displays, letter-writing, distributing postcards for change, and participating in the Asylum Seeker Resource Centre annual food drive. The group meets monthly in Frankston library.

ACTION FOR AUGUST!

A current GFR campaign priority aims to end a decade of injustice, demanding the Federal government immediately bring all refugees who remain in Papua New Guinea (37 men, 17 partners, 20 children) and Nauru (under 100) to Australia. Maryanne Barclay has 'Compassion NOT Punishment' postcards (below) available on request for you to post to the Minister for Home Affairs, Immigration & Citizenship Tony Burke.

SWAN Women for Housing Justice: Update

“Homelessness is a profound assault on dignity, social inclusion and the right to life”

Leilani Farha, former United Nations special rapporteur on the right to adequate housing.

SWAN's Women for Housing Justice group continues to meet monthly and advance our advocacy and community action work. Last month the group met with MPSC Mayor Anthony Marsh and CEO Mark Stoermer. Engaging with our elected representatives and MPSC's Mayor and CEO has allowed us to keep them up to date with the current situation and our continued campaigns, including telling them our expectations of their role in addressing the dire housing and homelessness crisis on the Mornington Peninsula.

Recent data this month provided by Launch ZERO Mornington Peninsula tells us that the situation continues to worsen, especially for women.

Currently, we are organising ROUNDTABLE 2 with Josh Burns MP, the federal government's Special Envoy for Housing and Homelessness committed to attend. Please put Tuesday 9 September in your diaries - as was the case with the first Roundtable, we will need some volunteers to help please with the day's event.

We will also be attending the Parliament of Victoria in late August to meet with Government Ministers and Shadow Ministers to inform them about the problems we are facing in our community and seeking our fair share of funding.

Our next group meeting on Tuesday 12 August at 9.45am at Mt Martha Community House will be mainly focussed on planning for ROUNDTABLE 2. Please come along and join us!

SWAN WOMEN FOR HOUSING JUSTICE

You are most welcome to attend our next SW4HJ meeting – Tuesday 12 August at 9.45am

Aiming to amplify First Nations Voices, build community awareness, support Treaty and Truth-Telling and engage with First Nations communities locally.

Willum Warrain Aboriginal Association have expressed their gratitude for all the support that allies provided about recent council funding cuts.

It was a concerted, well-run, multiprong campaign but we were unsuccessful in having the funding restored by Mornington Peninsula Shire Council. Well done also to all who wrote to the councillors and local paper in conjunction with SWAN's organisation-level letter. This was a great example of united solidarity, led by Walking Together Mornington Peninsula.

Walking Together Mornington Peninsula is looking for more people to promote and support First Nations people, organisations, businesses and events. Meetings online:

Heart of Country

Skyla's Heart of Country artwork celebrates the interconnectedness of community, land, and culture. Featuring vibrant colours and meaningful symbols, it reflects the strength, unity, and enduring legacy of First Nations peoples. At its heart, the piece underscores the deep love and care we must hold for our land, reminding us that every individual path contributes to the greater whole. The artwork stands as a tribute to the next generation, while honouring the Elders who have shaped our journey.

About the Artist: Skyla Lauch
Skyla is a proud Gunditjmara, Kirrae Wurrung, and Bundjalung woman, born and raised on Bunurong Country. At just 25, she is already a cultural educator and contemporary artist, committed to empowering communities through her art, storytelling, and cultural practices. Skyla's work blends traditional and modern techniques, creating vibrant pieces that connect the past, present, and future. Her passion lies in educating and sharing Aboriginal culture, building respect for Country and its stories.
