We'll be back in FEBRUARY 2026.

Warmly wishing you all a relaxing and wonderful Festive Season!

A MESSAGE TO MEMBERS: We would really appreciate if SWAN members could go to the SWAN Instagram and Facebook sites and Like and/or Comment on the postings. We need to let others know we are serious and are being heard. Every extra Like and Comment will help us in pressing our cases for advocacy and action as well as promoting how SWAN is a place of connection and friendship for like-minded women.

2026 is SWAN's 30th Year!

SWAN's 30th year will be a year to remember! As you are aware, next year we're conducting a special series of activities and events to celebrate SWAN's 30th ANNIVERSARY. Plans are underway to create a short video and photo exhibition to showcase the unique and valuable contribution made by many generations of SWAN women to strengthen our community. Initial feedback from our November General Meeting (see pp.4-6) will inform development of the video storyboard plus content for new chapters in the upcoming second edition of 'When Women Meet'. And in coming months, we will capture footage and conduct informal interviews with members about their SWAN experience, why it matters, memorable moments and awesome actions.

In 2026, a new General Meeting format with Special Guest Speakers will also feature. The centrepiece will continue to be inspiring presentations from notable guest speakers. First up, we are most fortunate to have secured KIRSTY SWORD GUSMAO former First Lady of Timor Leste on SUNDAY 15 FEBRUARY. As described in the ABC podcast (2024) 'From resistance to a life of service: Timor-Leste then and now', Kirsty grew up in regional Victoria, carried out clandestine work in support of resistance fighters, and married rebel leader Xanana Gusmao, who in 2002 became the first President of the newly independent country. She is founder and Chairperson of the Alola Foundation that promotes the rights of Timorese women, aims to increase their leadership capacity and improve the health and education of women and children. See:

Guest speaker for our International Women's Day (IWD) Meeting on SUNDAY 15 MARCH is MARY CROOKS AO who recently retired as long-term Executive Director of the Victorian Women's Trust. Mary is a dedicated feminist leader - never afraid to speak truth to power, who has championed women's rights for decades. Information about her and the topic she will address will be provided in the March edition of SWAN NEWS.

And a 'Heads Up'! On SUNDAY 24 MAY, SWAN is hosting our 30th ANNIVERSARY LUNCH at Safety Beach Sailing Club. Our keynote speaker will be Victoria's Equal Opportunity and Human Rights Commissioner RO ALLEN. Ro brings more than 25 years of experience in community services, governance and social justice. Stay tuned for details of this very special event we will share with you early next year.

We need Volunteers! As you can imagine, all of this is a lot of work! We are calling on members to assist. If you've got acting, poetic or musical skills we need your help. There are roles for those with facilitation, public speaking, networking and promotional skills, as well as those with talents in hospitality and catering. There are many other ways to be involved ... please let us know what you can share. All offers are welcome!

Special Event: SWAN Thirty Years On & Still SOARING!

On Sunday 9 November, SWAN members gathered at Mt Martha House Community Centre for our General Meeting to workshop plans for SWAN's upcoming 30th Anniversary in 2026. Facilitated by SWAN members Monica Coyle and Diane McDonald, ideas, memories, stories and photos were shared as well as members' significant contributions in facilitating connections and friendships between like-minded women.

This is a milestone worth celebrating. The November General Meeting provided us with the chance to share something of the essence of SWAN and to identify exactly what we would like to highlight in terms of events, actions, achievements and aspirations. The atmosphere inside the hall was lively, convivial and creative as members gathered in groups to explore these 4 themes. Here are some member responses:

WALL OF WHY

Why Join SWAN?

- To find like-minded women – passionate about something and interested in social justice
- Wanted to join a community group that made a difference
- From early on – someone told me “love the amazing women – the action – the strength”

Why Stay?

- It's good for the soul
- I love learning and hearing what's going on
- For the sake of justice
- It's a safe space for women to be outspoken

Why it Matters?

- ACTIVISM intersects with ADVOCACY – great women get things done.
- To move from information to action
- The Action is important – to take action and make things happen!

WALL OF LEARNING

- So many great guest speakers over the years
- From Nyadol Nyuon – an insight into her lived experience and the trauma of children
- A greater awareness of refugees and the numbers waiting to be processed
- From Prof Helen Keleher – an understanding of the causes of violence
- From Women's Spirit Project – I went on to be a mentor
- From Jillian West – so much about the value of culture and connection

SWAN Members engaged in workshopping & presenting the significance of SWAN, what and who inspires us, what we've learnt and achieved, and what more we can do.

WALL OF AWESOME ACTION

- The work of the Housing Justice group is awesome – advocacy and roundtable meetings
- The work on the VOICE referendum
- Public meetings, powerful dissent was alarming but we learnt what we were up against
- Involvement in 'Survival Day'
- Heather Osland released from prison - relentless persistence by SWAN
- '16 Days of Activism' - marches and activities against Gender Based Violence
- 'My Dress My Choice' – Islamic Fashion Parade
- Bursaries to support young women
- Media releases, letters to the editor and drawing attention to situations that matter.
- The fact that SWAN is a highly respected organisation
- The fact SWAN has lasted 30 years

WALL OF FUN AND GRATEFULNESS

- For meeting with like-minded people and for friendships formed through SWAN
- The care of fellow members
- To walk in the door and see the SWAN tribe is uplifting
- For the Coffee Catchups

- For the Catering Group providing morning tea at meetings
- For the inspiring Guest Speakers
- Remarkable people – quiet people doing something outstanding for someone else!

We also heard inspirational Reports from our active Working Groups reflecting on recent actions and current projects:

- SWAN Women for Housing Justice
- SWAN Women Against Gender Based Violence
- SWAN Women Supporting Refugee and Asylum Seekers in connection with Grandmothers for Refugees
- SWAN Women Supporting First Nations People
- SWAN Bursary – ‘The Val McKenna Young Women’s Advocacy Award’

Following the Plenary Discussion and the Working Groups’ presentations, we took a little time to identify some of the main challenges going forward and identify possible new directions.

What are the Main Challenges we face going forward?

- Attracting younger women
- Current political climate
- Sustainability
- Committee support – share the load
- Avoid burn out
- Maintain the rage
- Important to remain outspoken and share our values despite the threat of disempowerment from autocracy

Possible new Focus Groups

- Multicultural; Women with Disabilities; LGBTQI; Climate; Mentoring; Protesting Funding Cuts

L-R: Diane McDonald, Dianne Johnstone, Erica Churchill & Marilyn Hoban

The meeting concluded with a tribute to ERICA CHURCHILL who has served on the SWAN Committee in various roles for over ten years. Her outstanding contribution has been inspirational in so many ways. Thank You Erica!

SWAN Women Against Gender-based Violence

 SIXTEEN DAYS OF ACTIVISM *****

16 Days of Activism Against Gender-Based Violence runs from 25 November (International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women) to 10 December (Human Rights Day). The theme for 2025 is 'UNITE to End Digital Violence against All Women and Girls'.

Wearing SWAN's visually effective 'No to Violence, No to Silence' T-Shirts, our members set up an information table and joined a 'Community March for Respectful Relationships' at Hastings Foreshore on Tuesday 25 November with Wallaroo Community House, Family Life, Westernport Community Support Centre, The Orange Door, Headspace Hastings, Mornington Peninsula Shire Youth Services, Somerville Police, and Mornington Peninsula Shire staff, plus friends and supporters. Proud Palawa woman Jillian West (Nomuckerlener First Nations Cultural Awareness Training) moved us all with a heartfelt and stirring 'Welcome to Country' before we wound our way around a windswept foreshore. Following the march, Western Port Secondary College Co-Captain Marcus Hardwood impressed at a Panel Discussion about young men's role in respectful relationships. The other panellists (L-R) - Detective Sergeant Kay

Morgan (Somerville Family Violence Unit), Erika Mercado (Good Shepherd Financial Independent Hub), Dr Helen Keleher (Adjunct Prof. Monash University) and Melissa Flores (Women's Spirit Project) – highlighted coercive control, legal and financial challenges, and gendered violence stats and facts. It was a great day for networking, sharing resources and for supporting one other in the fight against gendered violence.

On 26 November, as part of 16 Days of Activism Against Gender-Based Violence, SWAN members attended the Peninsula Community Legal Centre's (PCLC) Youth Theatre Project's premiere 'A PLAY FOR CHANGE' at George Jenkins Theatre, Monash University Peninsula Campus. PCLC in partnership with Red Stitch Actors' Theatre created this powerful performance with playwright Dan Giovannoni - based on true stories about coercive control, consent and family violence, intended to reach over 5,000 young people in Years 9, 10 and 11 across local schools in 2026. Afterwards, a Panel Discussion facilitated by PCLC's Jackie Galloway OAM (who was SWAN's guest speaker in September 2024) was held with sector experts The Hon Sonya Kilkenny MP (Attorney-General of Victoria), Katrina Webster (Grants Program Lead, Victorian Legal Services Board and Commissioner), Krystalla Pearce (Red Stitch Actors' Theatre), William Betts (PCLC) and Steven Dupon (Youth Theatre Project, PCLC). The Minister affirmed the power of 'theatre as immediate and transformative .. (and that) ... art drives change'; Katrina stressed that young people 'are shaped by story'; and Jackie concluded the evening with a quote by Ruth Bader Ginsberg: 'Fight for the things you care about. But do it in a way that will bring others with you.'

HOUSING & HOMELESSNESS ROUNDTABLE #2

'Roundtable 2' on November 20th with the Federal Government Special Envoy for Housing and Homelessness Josh Burns was a well-attended success. The room was abuzz with vibrant discussion and good ideas. Now we are looking for action from our political leaders at all levels.

For more information, the Women for Housing Justice group would really appreciate if SWAN members could go to the SWAN Instagram and Facebook sites and see what we've been doing and Like and/or Comment on the postings. We need to let others know we are serious and are being heard. Every extra Like and Comment will spread the word and help us press the case that the housing and homelessness crisis in our community must be addressed.

*See article below published in MPNEWS 25/11/25 by Southern Women's Action Network:
'Special envoy hears community call for urgent action'

Photo: Yanni

The federal government Special Envoy for Housing and Homelessness, Josh Burns MP, attended Roundtable 2 hosted by the Southern Women's Action Network (SWAN) in Mornington last Thursday. In a packed room filled with over 40 local leaders and decision-makers, including community service providers, housing groups, local and state government departments, philanthropy and service clubs, the Special Envoy was told the alarming facts about the housing crisis and homelessness problem on the Mornington Peninsula.

Presentations from Mornington Peninsula Shire, Community Support Centres and the Committee for Frankston and Mornington Peninsula clearly made the case that the housing and homelessness situation locally is at its worst ever.

The Special Envoy heard that the local area had the highest recorded homelessness figures in Victoria and that the numbers are continuing to increase. Meanwhile neither state nor federal government have provided financial and services support. The evidence presented showed that our area, compared to like-areas, is clearly being disadvantaged in funding allocations for outreach worker support and Big Build funding.

Especially powerful was a heart-felt plea from the only outreach worker* on the Peninsula, for help for the people sleeping rough on our foreshore who, despite the huge efforts of local Community Support Centres, are languishing without hope of ever living in a home. Burns acknowledged that this is an intolerable situation and that no-one deserves to live without hope.

Burns also acknowledged that the situation on the Mornington Peninsula is clearly both disturbing and in need of urgent attention. The Special Envoy provided the forum with information about new government funding rounds that could be accessed. He referred to the shovel-ready project for women in crisis, that has been designed by the Shire, together with input from community support and housing providers, and backed by the local community, to be built on council land in Rosebud.

A question-and-answer session targeted the need for the Special Envoy and governments at all levels to urgently look at how the Mornington Peninsula's dire and unique situation can be better recognised by government departments and in funding rounds. There was a clear and united call from all Roundtable 2 attendees for action, not words, from the federal Government.

*The only outreach worker on the Mornington Peninsula is employed with philanthropic funds, not financed by government. Currently, SWAN and the shire are requesting that government fund three outreach workers for our area.

'We don't simply want to hear what a great job we all are doing - it's nice - but it doesn't fix the problems being faced or help our fellow community members. Southern Peninsula Community Support Centre in Rosebud recently had to close their books for those seeking emergency housing help, as staff are so overstretched and lack adequate funding assistance.'

Susan Blackburn, SWAN Women for Housing Justice member

'Special Envoy Josh Burns MP heard in no uncertain terms that we are sick of being neglected for funding, especially when we have, in the past year, had over 1000 people rough sleeping on our beaches, in our parks and in cars. I think he was genuinely shocked and concerned.'

Diane McDonald, SWAN Facilitator
